Excerpt: . . . retained him, two judges out of three held that the action did not lie at common law unless the defendant procured him to leave the service. In all these cases the words servant and service are used; but there is nothing to indicate the kind of servant or of service in respect of which the dicta and decisions occurred. There is a case in the Year-Book, Mich. 10 H. 6, pl. 30, fol. 8 B, in which it is said that an action does not lie against a chaplain upon the statute of laborers for not chanting the mass; for it is said he may not be always disposed to sing, and can no more be coerced by force of the statute than a knight, esquire or gentleman. There is no doubt but t at the statute of laborers only applied to persons whose...
